

The 9th Information Technology & Telecommunications Conference
Thursday 22nd and Friday 23rd October 2009
Dublin Institute of Technology, Dublin, Ireland

Ubiquitous and Green Computing

The Challenges Facing Computing Systems in Presenting Ubiquitous Computing in an Environmentally Sustainable Manner

www.ittconference.ie

The 9th Annual IT&T Conference will be held in Dublin at the Dublin Institute of Technology, Dublin, Ireland, on Thursday 22nd and Friday 23rd October 2009.

Call for Papers

The conference invites technical papers concerned with the broad area of Ubiquitous and Green Computing.

Papers are invited on, but are not limited to, the following topics:

- Ubiquitous Computing Systems Performance
- Mobile and Wearable Computing
- Location Based Services
- Security, Trust and Privacy
- Designing Software for the Mobile User
- Network Management and Planning
- Virtual Machine Technology
- Data and Text Mining
- Mobile Games and Entertainment
- Digital Gaming and Entertainment Technologies
- Learning Technologies
- Universal Design Technologies
- Wireless Services
- Data and Knowledge Management
- Virtual Communities
- Social Communities
- Avatars and Intelligent Agents
- Green Software Design
- Multi-Lingual Systems

Authors are invited to submit short (max. 6 pages) or full papers (max. 10 pages) and posters by 31st July 2009.

Registration of papers and posters will be open from 1st May 2009.

Details of full submission guidelines along with templates can be found on the conference website at

www.ittconference.ie

N.B. Papers not following the guidelines will be rejected.

Key Dates:

Receipt of papers and posters: 31st July 2009

Acceptance notification: 10th September 2009

Receipt of Camera Ready materials: 28th September 2009